A piece of fiction to lighten the mood and dream a little.

I am partial to a little mystery or drama, and this book while not mysterious certainly had the drama. Here One Moment recounts the lives of passengers aboard a short flight who all receive age and cause of death predictions.

How far do you go once you hear those words; will you question every move you make around your 30th birthday if told you were going to die in a fight? Do you hug your child and never let them swim if told they would drown at 7? Do you dismiss the prediction with a shake of your head? Will you lock yourself up as one does, in fear of hurting others? What would you do???

What forces were in play for “the death Lady” to stand up and walk calmly down the planes isle? Is she truly powerful like her mother or just scary crazy? Liane can certainly weave a tale that makes you question what would you do if you knew when and how you would die?

As I read, I kept hearing my own thoughts “How does your emotional state impact your life”, “every simple moment you took for granted has now become a force.. how would I use that?” “Oh my... what would I do”??

I hope you enjoy the read and look up her other books, such as Truly Madly Guilty (which I read with even more of the “what would I do” questioning me through its chapters.)

I give this 8 out of 10 cookies!

Savory Bread Dip

or as I call it OMG so addictive dip!

tasty

- 1 cup of Olive oil (any type)
- 4 cloves of Garlic – thinly sliced
- Pinch of Red Chili flakes - optional
- 1/3 cup finely chopped olives of choice.
- 1/3 cup finely chopped sun dried tomatoes (packed in oil type)
- 1/4 cup grated parmesan
- 2 tbsp chopped basil
- 2 tbsp chopped parsley
- 1 tsp Italian blend – I didn't have so just a pinch of oregano worked amazing as well
- Pinch of salt
- 1 Tbsp good balsamic vinegar
